TNLIKE Tennyson's brook, this unusual sale of the world's finest Oriental Rugs cannot go on forever. Therefore, the caption of this advertisement is indeed well chosen, as the wisdom of the policy of 'purchasing while the sale is at its zenith,' cannot be questioned . . . The time is rapidly shortening when we must return to its owners one-half of the store we now occupy, and that makes it imperative that we 'pep up' our sales efforts, in order that we may finish the job according to schedule . . . So, the sale continues—still greater reductions, new pricings here and there-and all who attend this week will learn why Sarkis H. The floods grow more menacing with the years. The lower valley, the chief sufferer, can do nothing to prevent floods. It can only minimize their damage. Corporations Botal, but there will be no delay in the publication, as the changes are purely formal. The labor charter definitely establishes the Italian idea of Fascism, giving the state absolute control over the sources of production and the workers. "Everything for the state, nothing against the state, and nothing outside the state." which the Italian dictator often repeated in summing up the essence of the Fascist philosophy, needed only the labor charter to make it complete.

The charter's five principles decree conditions in the relations between capital and labor which amount to state socialism, with the recognition of individual ownership only so long as that owner-ship furthers the highest interests of the nation.

The first principle decrees equal rights amon all social classes and proclaims solidarity amon all citizens for upholding the superior interes of the state, such interests to limit the individu rights both of capital and of labor. The second principle calls for the foundation of self-gove ing syndicates by the elevation of the profes sociations to the dignity of public institution empowered to dictate rules for the respective pro fessional classes, thus becoming an organ of economics, politics, and national education.

The new formula exacts a maximum of work for the state, but gives no power against the state. The third principle involves the individual re-sponsibility of all citizens and members of the ociations to their syndicates concerning the precise observance of labor production pacts. The fourth concerns the responsibility of syndicates to the state for the discipline of their members The fifth calls for the cooperation of the syndi-cates with the ministry of corporations. Premier Mussolini holds this portfolio.

In addition to the syndicates of labor and capital the following organizations were called in for cor-sultation: The associations for public employment the cultural society for workers, the national or national Balilla organization

Detailed reports made by all these units in the Fascist state were studied carefully and experts were consulted before the draft was completed The resulting document was described by the off cial press as "an open and explicit moral and political statement concerning the vital principles of the organization (Fascism) both in Italy and abroad, which explicitly, or by implication, contained the juridical discipline of collective

"All organizations responded to the invitation of the ministry of corporations and have answered thoroughly the questions asked of them, showing that they fully understand the importance of this great document—a document which we have reason to believe is not an expression of class claims but a complete synthesis of the moral and eco-nomic problems of labor, as well as those of capi-"In the charter the superior interests of nation

Good Milk Tastes Good!

These observations are confirmed by the experience of the mothers who are serv ing "Selected," the improved drinking milk, to their children.

The growth and development of the child are normal.

Taste is the unmistakable test of a milk's goodness.

Let your children apply the taste test to the milk they drink. Their judgment is remarkably accurate.

Try Borden's. Sip itdrink it. Notice especially its sweet, natural taste.

That is the real test of good milk. And that is why so many families are asking the Borden Milkman to serve their homes:

FACTS about used car allowances

Most new car sales now involve the trading-in of a buyer's used car. More and more people are asking: "Why should my used car seem to have several values?.... Why should dealers in different makes of cars offer me allowances differing materially?.... Does the largest allowance offered mean the best deal for me?"

Here are basic facts:

- 1 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 2. Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value: what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 3 The largest trade-in allowance which is offered on your used car is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; but sometimes it is not.

- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 Judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weight any difference in allowance offered on your used car.

When you are ready to trade-in your present car, remember that after all you are making a purchase and not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of the new car.

Shell Union Oil Corporation

Twenty-Year, 5% Sinking Fund Gold Debentures

Dated May 1, 1927

The following is taken from information submitted to us by the Company:

This Corporation, organized in 1922, is a consolidation of substantially the entire Royal Dutch-Shell and Union Oil Company of Delaware interests in the Mid-Continent and California fields. Through its subsidiaries it is one of the largest producing, refining and marketing units in the oil industry of the United States with total net production in 1926 of approximately 100,000 barrels per day, or over 35,500,000 barrels for the year. It has refinery capacity of 180,000 barrels of crude petroleum a day with a total intake of over 39,500,000 barrels during the year 1926. Sales in 1926 exceeded $149,000,000.

After deducting all liabilities, other than funded debt, net assets based on consolidated balance sheet of December 31, 1926, after giving effect to this financing, were over $285,000,000 or more than five and one-half times this issue. Consolidated net earnings for 1926, available for interest, after depreciation, depletion and drilling charges of over $28,000,000 were over $38,800,000 or more than 15½ times the $2,500,000 interest requirement on this issue. For the five years since organization such earnings on the same basis averaged over $23,600,000 or approximately 9½ times this requirement.

The proceeds of this issue will be used for the retirement of the outstanding issue of $16,965,400 6% Preferred Stock, Series A, of the Corporation, called for redemption at 110 and accrued dividend on May 15, 1927, for additions to and development of properties, and to further increase working capital.

The Trust Agreement under which these Debentures will be issued will provide among other things that except for purchase money mort-gages, mortgages then existing on property hereafter acquired, renewals or replacements of any such mortgages or of existing mortgages, and pledges in the usual course of business to secure loans not exceeding one year, neither the Corporation nor any of its subsidiaries will mortgage or pledge any of their property without equally securing these Debentures.

Upon completion of this financing the Company will have outstanding, in addition to this $50,000,000 issue which represents its only funded debt, 10,000,000 shares of one class, no par value, Capital Stock representing capital and surplus equity of $235,004,854, having a value as represented by present quotations on the New York Stock Exchange in excess of $268,000,000.

An annual sinking fund beginning on May 1, 1928 with a payment of $850,000, and thereafter at the rate of $850,000, in quarterly installments, will retire, through purchase or call, at least 33% of these $50,000,000 Debentures by maturity.

Little dramas in the life of a great newspaper system "You kill that story or I'll run you out of the state!"

In a Southwestern city, a Scripps-Howard editor heard whisperings of a plot to misuse the public lands for private interests.

He promptly printed an editorial, promising to sift out the conspiracy and give the facts a public airing.

Next morning the political czar of the state called at the editor's office. He demanded that the editor lay off the land inquiry—threatening to ruin his advertising revenue and run him out of the state if he printed another land story.

The editor accepted the challenge. Braving the pressure of unfriendly courts and banks, he not only exposed the local land grabs, but he trailed the chief conspirator through his subsequent term of office in Washington. And so helped to uncover the most amazing series of public land scandals in the history of political jobbery.

Every Scripps-Howard editor is the supreme sovereign of his newspaper. He edits his columns, free of all influence, save public interest. The Scripps-Howard policy is not a policy of fine idealism alone, but of sound business, as well.

A newspaper attains its greatest usefulness to its advertisers, only when it is steadfastly faithful to its readers. When it sacrifices its independence to other interests, it sacrifices its readers' trust in the integrity of its columns . . . and thus kills the thing that profits the advertiser most.

Keeping Abreast of the Industry

Only a few years ago electricity was used principally for lighting. Today only one-fifth of the electricity produced is used for lighting and three-fifths is used for power.

Industries of all types in the United States increase about 4% a year. The electric light and power industry has increased approximately 10% each year during the last 20 years.

From 1920 to 1926 inclusive, the electric Kw. Hr. sales in the United States as a whole increased 78.9%. During the same period, however, the electric Kw. Hr. sales of the Associated System increased 100.4% or approximately one-third more rapidly than that of the industry as a whole.

A modern Six Cylinder Speed Truck had to come ...

GENERAL MOTORS

BUICK Valve-in-head Engine

Come In—See these Trucks! • This is General Motors Truck Week • April 18th to 23rd

A new assurance of safety and ease in the most congested traffic . . . instant control at a touch . . . flowing smoothness and power at all speeds . . . driving comfort truly a revelation . . . these features are now combined with the most rugged durability in this latest offering of General Motors to the commercial world.

Modern traffic demanded such a truck.
And the incomparable resources of General Motors have been mustered to the task of creating it. Technical research, operating experience, unequaled manufacturing facilities and the conclusive tests of the General Motors Proving Ground have all had their share in producing this superbly modern truck—modern in design, modern in its fitness for present day needs.

See and investigate it, now on display. A truck powered by the famous Buick six cylinder engine, vibrationless beyond belief; and offered with a complete new line of General Motors-built bodies. A truck supreme in flexibility, supreme in stamina. And equally remarkable in price, made possible by General Motors volume production.

The Public is cordially included in this special invitation to attend our truck exhibit and to inspect our servicing facilities

It has been more than three years since Benno Moiseiwitsch played here fast, but when he returned for a recital at the Studebaker yesterday afternoon he was a better pinnist than ever. In a not far distant future the ap ent for any job is going to have how a clean bill of health. Funcsorders of the digestive sysclusion of the nasal passages, Healthy workers of good physical appearance are the ones who forge ahead in any office, shop, or other place of employment, you will note if you are at all observant. An investigator not long ago made the rounds of a number of large institutions and learned that employers frankly prefer girls of not just neat but smart personal appearance. They may not have to possess the color scheme that harmonizes with the office mahogany—but they must be—well, soothing at lease to the eyes of clients and customers and the employers themselves, somers and the employers themselves, and they must be healthy. The theory advanced in every instance was that a girl who is smart enough to ook after herself will be smart enough to look after the firm's interest.

nd musses our oven greatly, so we sed not start with as hot an oven as need not start with as hot an oven as the oven regulators and many a modarn cook book directs. A bath of very hot fat poured over, instead, with especial attention to cut surfaces, seals the pores, which is the purpose of starting at the too high temperature of 500. That is, I think, too high, considering many things. A bit of hot water may be put in the pan at the start, if it is needed, to keep the fat from burning, and so being unsuitable for the basting. To add it later is to get too much of a disturbance.

A roast with any fat worth while n it will make a noise while it is cook-ing reasonably which can be heard at ten feet away. Fat and water— averages 75 per cent water— hot bubble and break and jump when hot bubble and break and jump and twist about. There are explosions then the two meet, and divorces when hey are coupled. Nevertheless, if the vater is cooked out, and you begin to mell the fat, it is time to go through the dangerous business of adding vater to the pan. There are certain almost dangers in doing so. Put on classes. Use a long handled utensil, and expect a commotion. Cotton leaves, if you have them, may also as a safeguard.

But see what fun you can get out if it is the solution of this tussie with the elements. It has tussie with the elements. It has tussie with the elements of the big overstuffed rocker with a sigh. "I jes' love this chair," said she. "It's got a nice big lap... like Aunt Rachel's!"

Soft Banana Hand Shake Doesn't Win Very Many Friends BY DORIS BLAKE.

It is curious how so formal a gesture as a handshake will create impressions for good or ill. Sometimes by the mere motion one conceives a dislike for an ndividual which is never entirely overcome. Another "snake" will dismiss formalities immediately and a warm friendship will be struck.

It is a happier custom, no matter how it affects you, than rubbing noses, for instance—a form of greeting popu-lar among certain races, although these latter might not agree at all on our score. It is better than cheek kis ing, and by all odds more hygenic than kissing on the lips, a custom formerly common when two old friends of feminine gender met, but now gradually dying out.
